
Gray region is the reported late window. Finite simulation does not prove convergence or stability; values below 1e−24 are display-clipped.